BOTTLED BEERS

HOLY GRALE'S HOUSE BEER:

Villers-d.-Orval, Belgium

Brewed and bottle-conditioned at Notre Dame d'Orval monastery, founded around 1070 AD in the pastoral Belgian countryside. In contrast to all the others, the Orval Trappist brewery makes only one beer. It has an intensely aromatic and dry character. This beer is made of three different malts, two types of hops, Belgian candi sugar and undergoes a complex fermentation with multiple yeasts, contributing to great character and complexity. Between the first and second fermentations there is also an additional dry-hopping process. Through this the beer acquires its pronounced hoppy aroma and extra dry taste. Bottled at 5.2% abv - can go up as high as 7.2% and cellared for up to five years.

According to legend, Princess Matilda was passing through this region in about 1070 with her retinue. She stopped at a clear spring and trailed her hand in the water - and her wedding ring, a gift of her recently-deceased husband, slipped off her finger and sank. Distraught, she knelt and prayed fervently for its return . . . and a trout swam to the surface with the ring in its mouth, returning it to her. She is said to have claimed "Truly, this is a golden valley!" (French: Or = gold; val = valley) She gave the land to the church, and the trout with the gold ring can be seen to this day in the Orval logo.
